“ I grew up down the street from Shirley and Joe Scariano. I have many fond memories of the entire family. I would have been to the celebration of Joe's life had I not been in California visiting my grandchildren. I always remember Joe talking about his wine-making with such enthusiasm. One time when I was home from college he brought me down to the basement to show me the actual process. I got to jump on the grapes!! Better than any subsequent trips to Napa. Salute Joe!!

“ I knew of Joe from my mom, Genevieve Kaput who lived in Summit. She went to several wine tasting events at St. Joseph school in Summit and always talked about this pisan named Joe who introduced her to the concept. Being Italian, of course, they hit it off and bonded immediately. When my mom passed, Joe graciously came over to the house to pick up 8-10 bags of clothes that I had ready for him that he brought to St. Vincent de Paul. Then about 5 years later our paths crossed again we he started visiting people he knew at Mother Theresa Home/Franciscan Village in Lemont where I work. It was like I knew him forever, especially when he found out I was a "Kaput". He fondly reminisced with me about both my mom and dad, Henry, and also my brother Mike who lives in Summit. Every time he came to visit and then later to volunteer, he would tell the same story to everyone that wandered by about how my dad built our house in Summit from scratch and what a beautiful home it was and what good people my folks were. He greeted everyone with his familiar boisterous "Hey" and a few of us got the "Goomba". We all loved him dearly. He was so full of life and joy and I've never met anyone like him and I will never forget him. Rest in peace Goomba.

“ God bless the whole Scariano family. I am so sorry for your loss. Although I went to school with Kathy, I met Mr. Scariano when I was selling parent's club cookbooks and he was selling wine tasting tickets for the Knights of Columbus at St. Dan's. He talked me into going, all by myself. He always talked fondly about his family and was so much fun. He was really a great man and so his passing is a great loss.

“ I met Joe when he visited Mother Theresa Home (Lemont) parish residents. He first came as a part of a trio of friendly joksters...Joe, Henry and Ralph. Joe and I became friends as I was at the front reception desk. I always looked forward to seeing him and we became friends. Lots of talks - serious and funny, lots of smiles and kind words and that great "Joe" smile. He was a wonderful friend and a man of great faith and I want his family to know I considered it a great honor to call him my friend.
